

Register of Free Negroes 1850-1864

Electronically reformatted in 2022

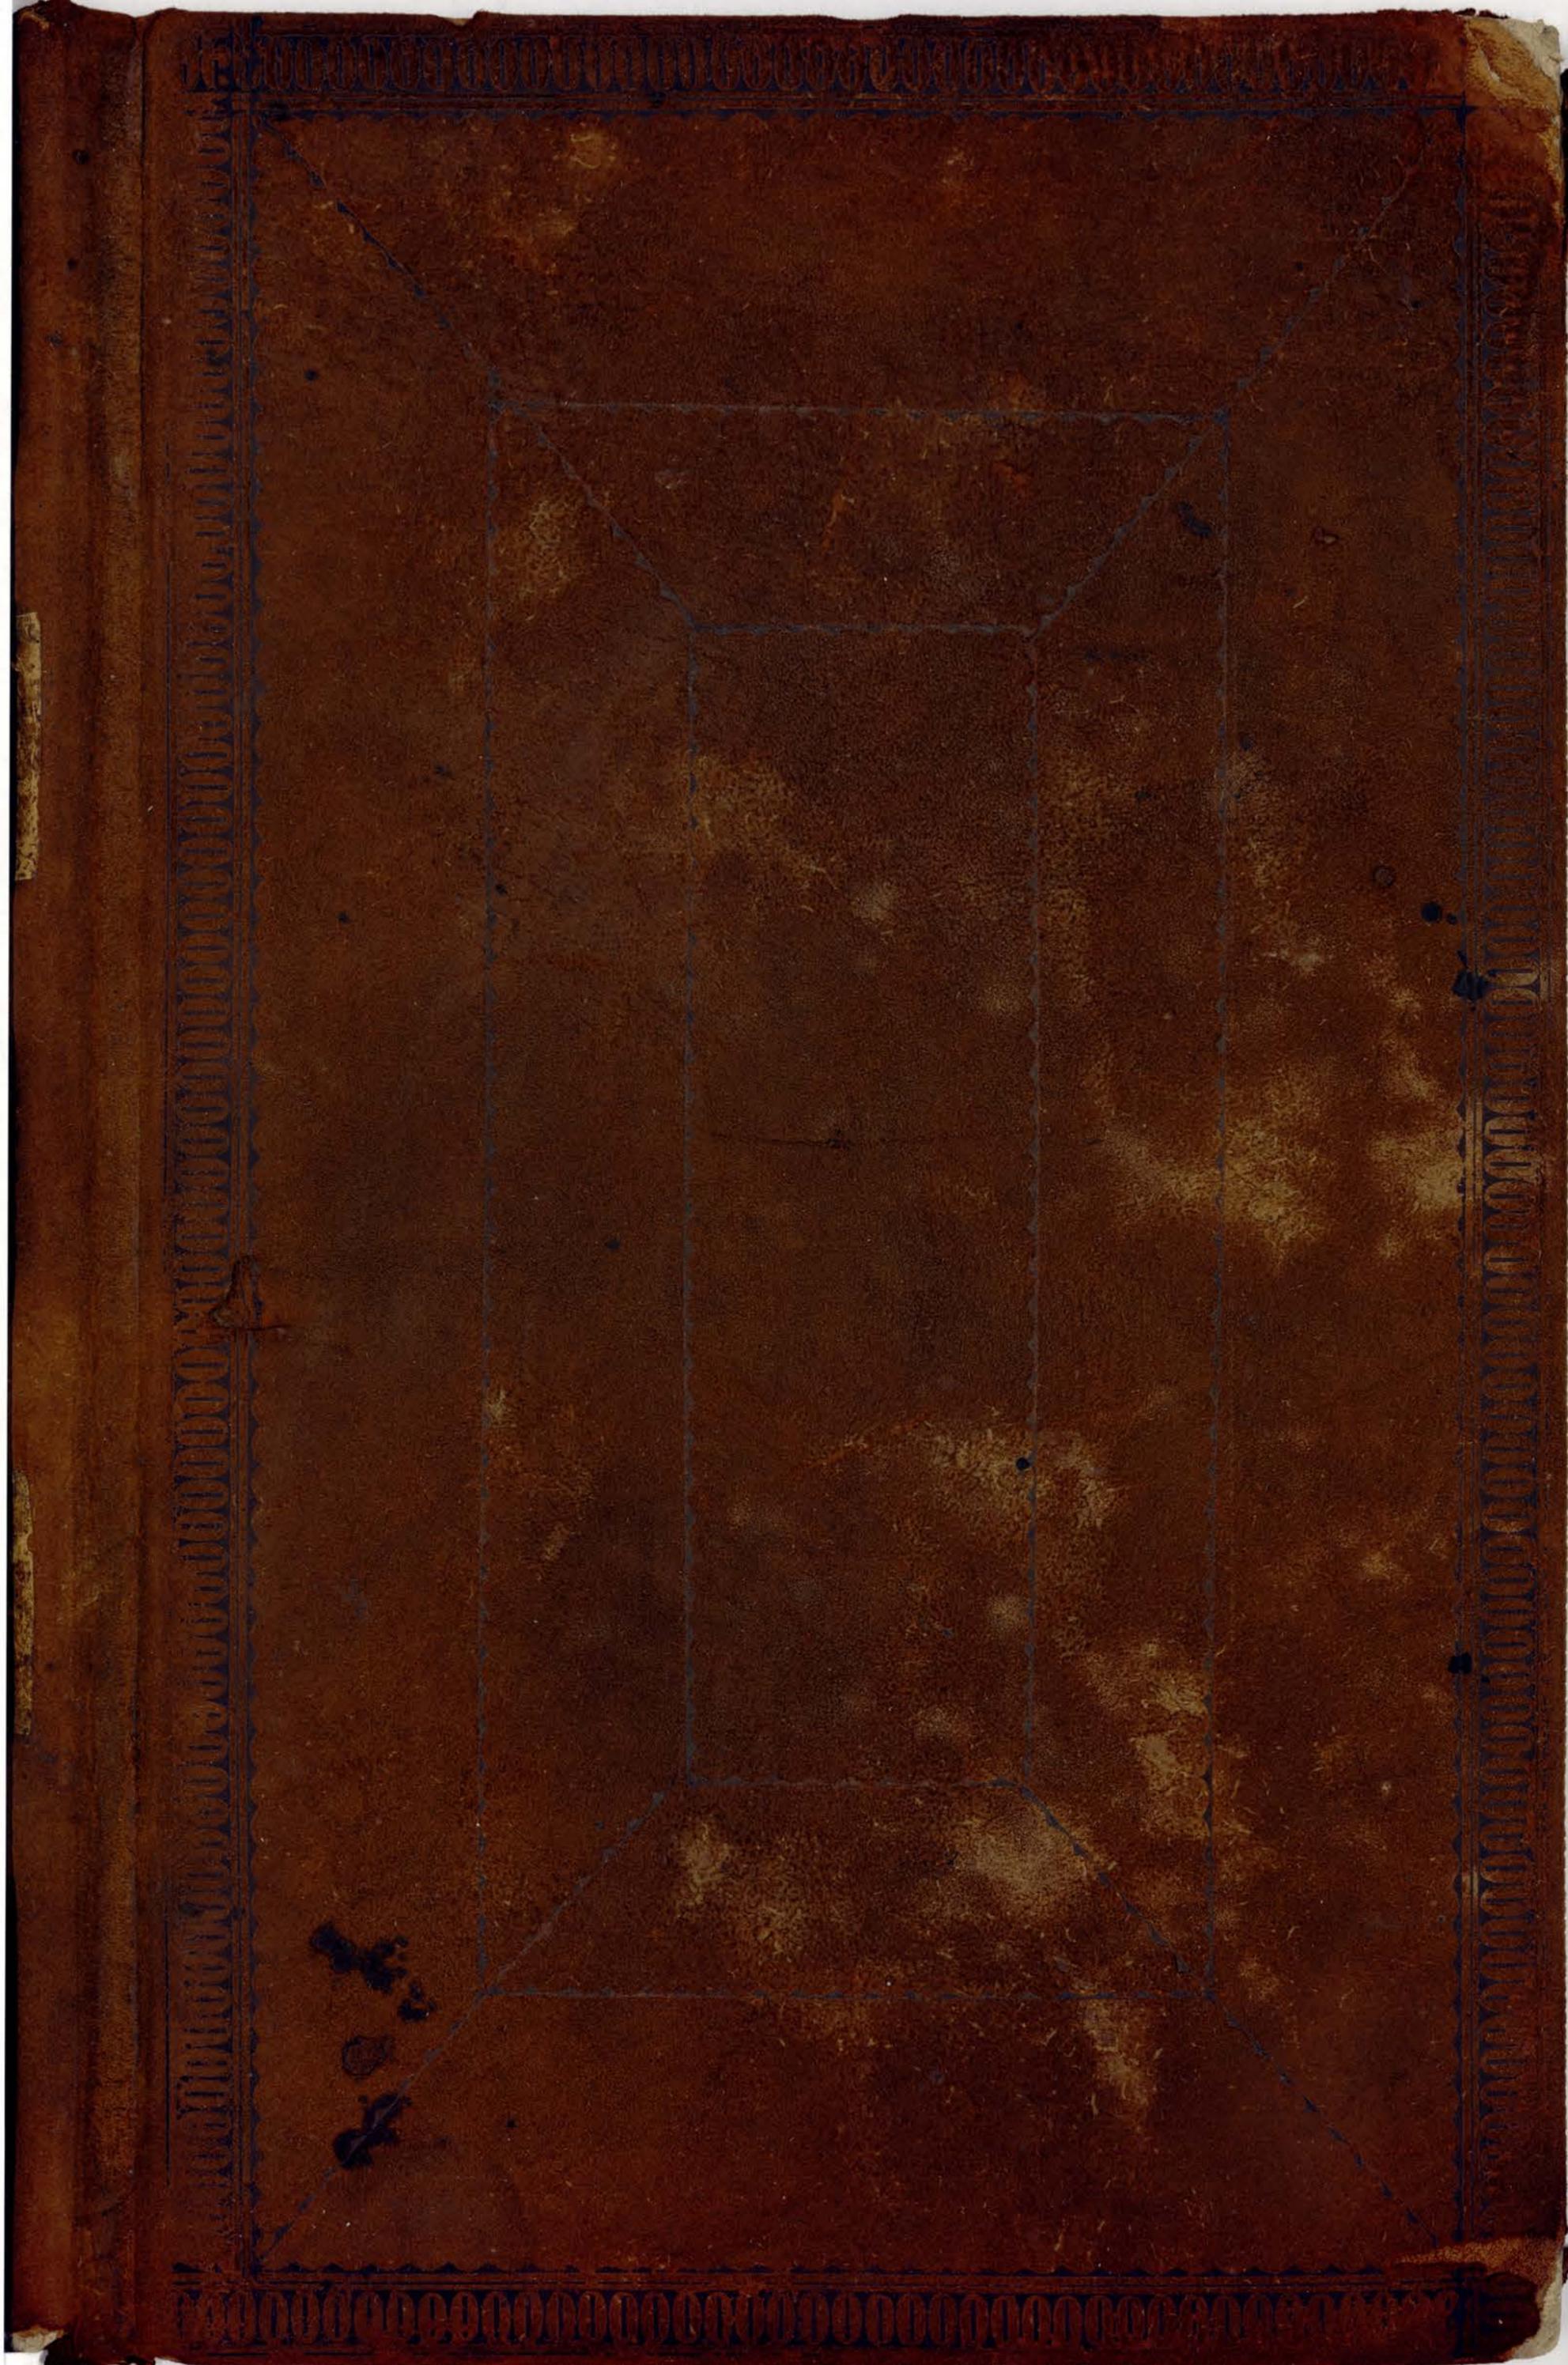

by the Library of Virginia and J. Barrett Chappell, Jr., Clerk

Instructions/Helpful Tips

Until the Thirteenth Amendment to the U.S. Constitution outlawed slavery in 1865, African Americans in Virginia were either free or enslaved. Free African Americans were required to register themselves. The resulting lists, known as “Free Negro Registers,” often note whether an individual was born free or, if not, the name of the individual who manumitted him or her.

1. The index starts on page 4 of the pdf and the page is labeled a1. This has all the persons with a last name that starts with A. The page number listed next to the name is the page index you will look for in the pdf.
2. The index continues through the alphabet to page 51 of the pdf
3. Not all letters of the alphabet have an index page associated with it and were not included in the original book as well.
4. Once you find the page number you are looking for can scroll to the page in the pdf or enter the page label as 1a or 1b, 2a or 2b, etc.
5. The pages should be read across both pages. Page 1 would include 1a and 1b and should be read across both pages. Below is an example for Anderson Malone.
