Dinwiddie Circuit Court Improves Efficiency through E-Filing

DINWIDDIE, VA – The Virginia Judiciary E-Filing System (VJEFS) is a comprehensive automated system developed by the Office of the Executive Secretary of the Supreme Court of Virginia, to integrate the circuit court clerks' offices' existing statewide Circuit Case Management, Case Imaging, and Financial Management Systems, thereby improving the efficiency of clerks' offices.

Dinwiddie Circuit Court will begin E-Filing as part of the VJEFS pilot program on June 24, 2013. Dinwiddie will be the fourth clerk's office in the state to implement the new system, which allows attorneys to file electronically in most civil cases. The system is free to use and will help reduce costs for law offices as well as the clerk's office.

Dinwiddie continues to lead the state in developing and implementing new technologies. Along with VJEFS, attorneys are able to view entire case files online as well as file civil documents electronically using the Officer of the Court Remote Access System. Dinwiddie Circuit Court Clerk, Barrett Chappell, stated "It has been my goal as clerk to utilize all available technologies to streamline court operations and enhance the overall convenience of citizens and those conducting business with the Circuit Court."

For more information on these new services, please visit the Dinwiddie County Circuit Court's website at: www.dinwiddiecircuitcourt.com or contact the clerk's office directly by phone at: (804) 469-4540.
