2019 Christmas Parents

Bill and Andie Jones

The Dinwiddie Christmas Sharing Foundation has named Bill and Andie Jones as their 2019 Christmas Parents. Bill and Andie are both natives of Dinwiddie County and met when Bill was in the 9th grade and Andie in the 8th. They have been married for 46 years; and have spent more than 50 Christmases together.

The Jones' are both retired. Bill served for many years as County Treasurer and Andie taught Kindergarten in Dinwiddie County Public Schools. Through the years, they each met and inspired many, many people with their integrity and genuine kindness. They have three adult children, and four grandchildren.

The Jones' are active members of Lebanon United Methodist Church where Bill serves as a Trustee and sings in the choir. Andie serves on two missions committees; and is a member of the From the Heart knitting club, making hats, blankets and lap robes for those in need. They are both volunteers with the Dinwiddie County Food Bank. In their free time, Bill and Andie busy themselves with yard work, litter pick-up, reading, puzzles and traveling.

When asked what Christmas Sharing means to them, the Jones' shared their love for service and giving. They are able to empathize with those who struggle to provide for their families and the opportunity to help make Christmas brighter for families means a lot to them. They feel honored to represent the Dinwiddie Christmas Sharing Foundation as the 2019 Christmas Parents.
