County to Host Panel Discussion on Enlightenment, Equity & Unity

DINWIDDIE, VA – The Dinwiddie County Advisory Task Force on Equity & Racial Reconciliation will host a panel discussion focused on enlightenment, equity and unity. The public event scheduled for Wednesday, July 28, 2021 from 7:00 – 8:30 pm will take place at Dinwiddie County High School.

A diverse, eight-member panel will engage in a candid discussion of race, equity, and unity in Dinwiddie County. Dr. Cassandra B. Stanley of the VCU Office of Strategic Engagement will moderate the conversation.

The Honorable Larry Elder, Co-Chair of the Task Force commented, “The purpose of the Listen & Learn series is to bring about understanding, respect and hopefully initiate positive change. We may not all agree, but to move our community forward we must understand and respect all points of view.”

Co-Chair Sharon Yates added, “My hope is that the Listen & Learn session will demonstrate that honest, albeit sometimes uncomfortable dialogue is healthy. Even when we agree to disagree, we can do so with confidence knowing that we are listening, learning and growing in the process of affecting change in the world around us.”

This Listen & Learn session is the first in a series to be hosted by the Advisory Task Force on Equity & Racial Reconciliation. If you have questions, or wish to get involved, please email EquityTaskForce@dinwiddieva.us.
